

Where Technology
& Taste Buds Meet!

Foods

Take the worry out of your manufacturing process by letting Adams do the work. After all, we've been in this business since 1888. Adams can manufacture your custom sauces, salsas, soups, mustards, marinades, drinks and more. Whether you need a finished retail package or bulk totes, Adams Custom Beverage & Foodworks can fulfill your needs.

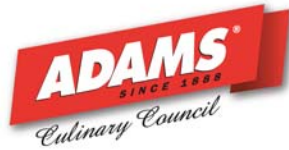

Ingredients

For over a decade, Adams' industrial division has been providing custom blended and custom packaged seasonings and flavors to some of the most demanding manufacturers in the commercial food industry. Whether you are a food manufacturer, commercial bakery or confectioner, or servicing the food and hospitality industry, Adams can handle your ingredients. From a starter premix to an entire formula, rely on Adams Industrial.

Flavors

Since 1888, the name Adams has been synonymous with “flavor”. Now you can add Adams’ capabilities and expertise to your products. From liquid or powdered extracts to specialized savory items, Adams can meet your needs with consistent, quality ingredients.

Sourcing

Our Global Sourcing Team searches the world for the finest products and ingredients. By leveraging the Adams Brand buying power to guarantee quality, freshness and a reliable supply of raw materials, we ensure you the best possible price.

At Adams, we believe that high quality does not have to be expensive... and great value does not have to be low quality.

Quality

Adams' 60,000 square foot manufacturing campus is regularly inspected and audited by some of the most respected third party safety and health inspection agencies in the world, such as the FDA, Silliker and Quality Assurance International. We maintain kosher and organic certifications and offer continuing letters of guarantee, COAs, and microbiological testing upon customer request. Adams also partners with Texas A&M University on special processing requests.
